

Think Green When You Spring Clean!

With the weather getting warmer, you may feel the urge to do some deep cleaning and organization. Here are a few tips to freshen up your surroundings while remaining environmentally friendly:

Declutter Your Home Office by Going Paperless

Many companies offer paperless billing and online bill payment options. These services save paper, add convenience and help the environment all at the same time!

To register for E-Bill with Hamilton have your current statement ready and visit my.HamiltonTel.com.

To go paperless, select "Settings", then "General," then select "Web Bill Only" to change your statement preference.

Receive $5 off your next statement when you select paperless statements on E-Bill.

Ditch the Paper Towels

Use a cheap cloth or repurpose an old t-shirt for dusting or basic cleaning. These materials can be washed and reused, so you'll be reducing both your expenses and waste.

Use Lemons for an Added Kitchen Sparkle

Dip a cloth into a mixture of hot water and lemon juice and wipe in the same direction as the grain of your stainless-steel appliance for a like-new shine.

Filter the Air In Your Home Naturally

Spider plants, rubber plants and peace lilies are a few all-natural air-purifying plants you can add to your home. Place them in high-traffic areas of your home to gain the most benefit from these plants.

Clean Up Your Online Accounts

It is important to set strong passwords for your various online accounts. If you no longer use a particular site, you may want to remove saved information like credit card or bank account numbers to prevent that information from falling into the wrong hands.

5 Safety Tips for Mobile Devices

Mobile devices offer a convenient way to access and store information all in one place which may make a compromised mobile device a greater risk than losing your wallet. Here are some ways to keep your handheld tech secure:

Lock Mobile Devices with a Passcode

Keeping mobile devices safe with a password or passcode ought to be standard practice. Keep it locked when not using it and set up multi-factor authentication (MFA) or two-factor authentication (2FA) to create additional verification hurdles for hackers.

Use Caution When Downloading Apps from Third-Party Sites

App stores serve as a mobile app library, but they also hold developers accountable and review apps to ensure that users are not exposed to malicious software. Third-party sites may not share these safety standards and could pose a cybersecurity risk.

Avoid Connecting to Unsecured, Public Networks

If connecting to a public Wi-Fi network is a must, best practice is to use a VPN (Virtual Private Network) or if you have multiple devices available, one may be used to create a hotspot, and the primary device may be connected.

Be Cautious with Email

It is important to exercise the same awareness and caution with a mobile device email inbox as with your desktop computer. No matter the device, phishing emails can be just as dangerous on-the-go as they would be at a desk.

Keep Devices Updated

Software updates are made continuously to keep devices protected against continual, newfound threats. Keeping devices up-to-date keeps hardware and valuable information as secure as possible.

3 Tips for Growing Your Garden

Decide What You'd Like to Grow

Different vegetables, herbs and flowers have varying needs for water, soil, space and seasonal planting. Research your preferred plants to see what works for you.

Invest Thoughtfully in Your Garden

Invest in quality tools to save you time, effort and money. Also plan out space for your plants to grow. Sketch your garden on a piece of paper, noting measurements for plant rows/boxes.

Plant with Care

You may be tempted to give your plants too much attention and over water. This can cause seeds and roots to rot so follow your plants' specific watering needs. For pests, consider using insect traps and placing wire or mesh caging around larger plants like tomatoes and green beans.

We wish you a successful season and send you a green thumbs up!
